

Why Pandas are Endangered

Pandas are without a doubt the most loved animals in China, so why are they endangered?

Well Pandas are being hunted and losing their bamboo because of us but we can change that. We can make a difference . Panda's forests are being cut down by humans and without a forest, pandas can't eat the bamboo and they can starve.

They also are being captured and put into zoos. They are even being eaten.

So that is why pandas are only in zoos or China.
